Groundbreaking for Youthful Offender Facility is Dec. 14

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

Pahokee Mayor Ramon Horta says he is very excited about a new industry coming to Pahokee. "It's the first time in a long time," he said.

The Esmore Correctional Services, Inc. will be opening the Esmore Youthful Offender Facility in about a year. Groundbreaking ceremonies are planned for next Thursday at 1 p.m. at Pahokee's Youth Center in the gymnasium.

Lieutenant Governor Buddy MacKay will be the guest speaker and a barbecue will be offered to residents beginning at 12:30 p.m.

The facility is expected to generate about 220 new jobs in the area and will have a $9 million yearly payroll. The facility can house up to 350 youth.

Mayor Horta said construction is set to begin in January and the facility should be open in 12 months.

Job preference will be given to local residents, said Mayor Horta, and this is an aspect of the plan he was happy to see. "Our residents can use the jobs," he said.

Pizza Express owner still critical after shooting 4 weeks ago

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

Tom Wheeler is still on life support. He has not spoken since that Saturday night, Nov. 4, when a teenager aimed a gun at his chest and pulled the trigger.

Tom's wife, Jonnie Wheeler, says it was a senseless shooting, causing pain to a man who always wants to help others.

Mr. Wheeler, 49, is still on a respirator at St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach. He lost one kidney in the shooting and his other kidney has now failed. He is on dialysis daily.

Mrs. Wheeler says the doctors tell her Tom has a 60 percent chance the remaining kidney will regain function.

"It's very, very serious. Tom's not making progress the way he should," said Mrs. Wheeler.

Police caught the alleged robbers, Alvin Lewis Green, 18, and Antoine Leon Perkins, 18, shortly after the robbery at Pizza Express.

The teenager allegedly shot Tom Wheeler in his take-out pizza business after demanding the money from the cash register. The two then fled on foot and were captured within the hour by Belle Glade Police officers.

Green and Perkins were charged with armed robbery, two counts of attempted first degree murder, aggravated assault with a firearm and petty theft. Lt. Albert Dowdell with the Belle Glade Police Department said Perkins will be tried as an adult and both face trial soon. They have remained in jail since the shooting.

Mrs. Wheeler said she is grateful for all the cards and prayers for her husband and hopes everyone will continue to pray for him. "I wanted to let people know how he was doing because we have received so many calls and cards. I told Tom I believe he has more friends in Belle Glade than I do. When I told him that, tears rolled down his face," she said.

Mrs. Wheeler said Pizza Express has been closed since the shooting and she is trying to sell the business.

The entries were judged in three categories, with the winners listed as follows: Best Marching Unit: First place - Hospice of Palm Beach County, Golden Glades Team with "Jingle Bells"; Second place - Russ Adams Tae Kwon Do; Third place - Rosenwald Elementary with "Rockin' Round the Christmas Tree"; Best Float: First place - Pioneer Growers Cooperative with "Hark, The Herald Angels Sing"; Second place - First Community Bank of Palm Beach County with "What Child is This?"; Third place - Boy Scouts of America, Pack & Troop 622, chartered with the Community United Methodist Church, with "The Christmas Song (Chestnuts Roasting on an Open Fire)";

Chamber Executive Director Leigh Woodham said the plaques were made possible through the support of sponsors King Ranch and Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida.

"The board of directors and the staff of the chamber would like to thank them for their generosity and their continued support of our community," said Mrs. Woodham. ## Ask questions before taking medicine

By Paula Swaford, RN

During the upcoming holiday season, many people will visit their physicians with a multitude of complaints and conditions. After these visits they will probably also visit their local pharmacy to purchase a prescription drug of some kind. Here are a few things you should know about prescription drugs.

Drugs are powerful chemicals. Along with their benefits, they also have a potential for harm. Some drugs can cause side effects ranging from mild rashes, headaches, nausea or drowsiness to more severe reactions such as vomiting, bleeding, impaired vision or hearing.

According to an article from FDA Consumer Magazine,

November 1993, many people react the same way to medication.

One person may experience a reaction to a certain drug, while another person may have no problems at all. That is why no one should ever take a drug that was prescribed for another person. Many people get excited about the way a certain antibiotic works for them, or what a good job their blood pressure medicine does, that they want to share the medicine with all their friends and co-workers.

This is not a good idea! It could be very dangerous and even fatal.

To get the most out of your medicine, you should ask your doctor: What is the name of the medicine? Write it down so you won't forget. What is the medicine supposed to do? (Make the pain go away? Get to the cause of the pain? Reduce fever? Lower blood pressure? Cure infection?, etc.)

What side effects might occur? How should you take the medicine? Does "three times a day" mean morning, noon and night? Should you take it before meals, with meals, or after meals? If the directions say "every six hours" do you have to get up during the night to take the medicine on time?

How long should you take the medicine? If you stop just because you feel good, the symptoms and the disease may recur.

Are there other medicines you should not take, while you are taking this one? Are there any foods or beverages, including alcohol, you should avoid? Can the prescription be refilled without an appointment or does the doctor need to see you again?

It is a good idea to check the prescription before you leave the doctor's office. If there is anything you don't understand, ask about it. If you do forget, your pharmacist should be able to provide you with literature on your specific drug, if you ask him for it.

Finally, always remember to read the label before you take the drug. Mistakes are made so easily, even by professionals. I'm always reminded of the story of the girl who accidentally glued her eyes shut with super glue, thinking she was putting in eye drops.

Until...next time...stay informed and stay healthy.

Great gift ideas for weather nuts

By Mike Lyons

I got "the list" the other day. Printed neatly on a small, white piece of paper, "the list" was a line-up of gifts my seven year old daughter wanted for Christmas. She's asking for five presents this year including a roller-skating Barbie, a "cut and curl hair salon" and a doll house.

Christmas gifts! It's that time of year again! It is painfully obvious to me that my daughter has inherited my wife's planning and organizational skills. While I've barely made it through Thanksgiving, my better half and her clone-in-the-making, have nearly finished their Christmas shopping. Except, of course, for the items on "the list."

I realize I'm not alone in this predicament. Lots of other folks wait until the last minute to purchase their holiday gifts. Still, there is plenty of time before Christmas and, besides, I've got "the list." This will be easy.

But finding the perfect gift for the weather enthusiast in your family may be more difficult. After all, what do you buy someone who thinks the Weather Channel is the only thing on TV? What do you get for that person who loves to watch thunderstorms or that speed someone who thinks a rapidly dropping barometer is high drama?

Hang in there, help is on the way in the form of the Wind and Weather Catalog. Wind and Weather is a California based company that has been selling weather instruments, weather vane, sundials and garden ornaments for 20 years. Their holiday catalog is full of wonderful gift ideas for that weather nerd in your family.

A calendar always makes a great gift and Wind and Weather has two of the best. The Weather Guide Calendar and the Alaska Weather Calendar are full of beautiful photographs and fascinating weather trivia. Both sell for less than $12.

Residents of Florida have learned never to leave home without their umbrella. The Cats & Dogs Umbrella, featuring a downpour of felines and canines, will keep just about anyone dry. This umbrella is a bit pricey at $44. When the rain starts to fall and the wind begins to blow that weather enthusiast in your family will want to keep track of the weather. For an inexpensive $9, you can present him or her with the Dumbie Rain Gauge. The Wind Wizard is a hand-held device that can measure the speed of the wind. It retails for $43.

For weather watchers on the go may I suggest a wrist-watch that does more than just tell the time? Manufactured by Casio, this watch shows compass headings, the barometric pressure and the temperature. The amazing weather-watch costs $226.

The catalog has lots of other choices, like a thermometer roughly the size of a small child (it's 46 inches high), a weather vane in the shape of a dolphin, posters of tornadoes, books on meteorology and, my personal favorite, the weather frog/barometer. A frog jumps up when the pressure rises and down when the air pressure drops.

Chances are if you can't find a gift for the weather devotee in your family this catalog is just what the doctor ordered. Call 1-800-992-9463 to get your copy.

Now that I've taken care of your holiday needs, I've got to get to work on "the list." A roller-skating Barbie? I had no idea she could skate.

Mike Lyons is the weatherman for WPBF Channel 25.

Swiss Scientists Discover New Energy Product

Lugano, Switzerland—After 25 years of research Lightning Btl was developed with the help of Swiss Laboratories. After extensive testing with amazing results, Lightning Btl is now available in the United States. Scientists are amazed at Lightning Btl's results on improved memory, attitude and athletic performance.

In a double blind cross-over trial on university students in Italy, Lightning Btl was given twice daily for 12 weeks. The results were astounding. Students obtained higher scores in math, logic and physical education.

This new discovery has been a wind-fall for working and active people that seem to run short of energy around mid-afternoon and need a little extra lift. Lightning Btl when taken in the morning gives a sustained, balanced form of energy throughout the day.

During an interview in Chicago, a basketball coach, "I used to go home exhausted after being on my feet all day. Now it's just incredible. I go home with extra energy and really enjoy my family more."

Lightning Btl is a necessary boost for students, professionals and senior citizens.

"Rest" less in Belle Glade

"This is concerning roosters crowing every morning. I know this may sound petty, but to me it is a big deal.

Can anything be done if your neighbor just purchased a rooster and it wakes you up every morning? It is very annoying to me.

Am I living in the country that I should accept this kind of nuisance?

I live off from Airport Road. My neighbor was talked to about this problem but my request was ignored."

Second request for an answer

"Can you tell us what the Ethics Commission found out about the mayor? I asked you about this and said the mayor (Steve Weeks) should resign if he is breaking the law.

What is the Ethics Committee going to do about what's going on? Anything? Or won't you print this or maybe we'll have to go to West Palm Beach to get the answer."

Editor's note: We spoke with the office of Phil Claypool, staff attorney for the Ethics Commission in Tallahassee. There has been no complaint filed with the Ethics Commission against Mayor Steve Weeks.

This caller is referring to a story which ran in another newspaper stating the mayor of Belle Glade and city officials in Clewiston also, failed to file the proper paperwork with the city about owning businesses with which these cities do business. City officials in Belle Glade say they were unaware this paperwork existed. The city has requested the paperwork the mayor needed to file while stating that he owns a business in the city purchases some supplies.

A good solution to crime?

"Okay. Victims of crime take notice. Let's rate our city's criminals on a scale of one to 10, with 10 being the worst. Speeders equal a number one. Car window smashing thieves a nine.

Why not take our motorcycle police officer and these monies used to fund his duties and let this officer and his motorcycle patrol our neighborhoods day and night in search of the number nine criminals.

All that will be left in our town will be the criminals if we do not take aggressive action soon. What do you think taxpayers and victims?"

Editor's note: We asked Chief Michael Miller what he thought about this solution and here is his response:

"The Belle Glade Police Department's primary responsibility is public safety. To this end we have always placed a higher priority on the protection of human life over crimes against property. Every year approximately 50,000 people die due to traffic accidents and speed is a factor in most of these deaths.

Any criminal activity that occurs in the City of Belle Glade is important and we do our very best, with our limited resources, to address all criminal activity including crimes against property. However, if you are looking for a real solution to our crime problem, we need to challenge our legislators to address the following problems.

1. Sentencing guidelines which makes prosecuting crimes against property impossible.
2. Our judicial system, due to their limited resources, cannot effectively deal with crimes against property.
3. Our prisons are overcrowded with violent criminals.
4. Our juvenile justice system is not an effective deterrent to crime.

The Belle Glade Police Department will continue to put forth our best effort in dealing with all criminal activity including crimes against property. However, our number one priority will remain the protection of human life. To this end, our traffic enforcement will continue."

Mr. Robert Coker
United States Sugar Corporation
Clewiston, Florida

Dear Mr. Coker:

WPTV Channel 5's Food for Families Thanksgiving food drive would like to thank you for your greatly needed donation of 10,000 boxes. Your generous contribution will enable us to package the thousands of pounds of food we have received this month from businesses and schools conducting food drives on behalf of Food for Families.

Without contributions from businesses like U.S. Sugar, Food for Families would be unable to help the dozens of agencies in our community provide meals for the less fortunate in the Palm Beaches and the Glades.

WPTV Channel 5 would like to thank you again for your support. You help give the people in our community a reason to be thankful this holiday season.

Respectfully yours,

Tracy D. Smith

Don't let food borne illness spoil holiday cheer

By Chuck Woods
University of Florida
Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences

"Bon appetit" or dining disaster? In the holiday rush, one careless mistake in the kitchen can spoil everything.

"The last thing anyone wants to worry about during the holidays is food borne illness," said Ron Schmidt, professor of food science and human nutrition with the University of Florida's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences.

"Almost anything in the kitchen environment - from dirty dishcloths and less-than-clean countertops to improperly prepared foods - can spread bacteria and make people sick," he warns.

Cross contamination is the most common way for bacteria to find its way into food. For example, if uncooked meat or poultry is left on the counter and a sponge is used to wipe the counter, the sponge will pick up bacteria from the meat. Another example, he said, would be using a cutting board to prepare raw meat or poultry and then using the same board to prepare a salad without properly cleaning the board.

Reusing plates can also spread bacteria. Moving raw meat from a plate to the grill and then back to the plate can contaminate the cooked product. Another common mistake involves packaging and storing leftovers. Food should never be left out for more than two hours because bacteria grow quickly at room temperature.

Professor Schmidt said the U.S. food supply is the world's safest, but people should be careful with milk, eggs, poultry and other meats. While there have been highly publicized food borne outbreaks in recent years involving pathogens such as E. coli and Listeria, the most common food borne illnesses still involve salmonella and staphylococcus. Both of these can be easily prevented by careful food handling practices.

"It is interesting that E. coli has become a household scare word while salmonella causes many more problems," he said. Salmonella is found in raw animal products (poultry, meats, eggs, and dairy products). However, many raw foods including fruits and vegetables can become carriers of salmonella if contaminated with animal wastes.

"Not all raw meat and poultry that we purchase are going to harbor bacteria, but assume they do. Poultry and eggs are the most likely to carry a pathogen like salmonella. Next to cleanliness and proper handling, cooking foods thoroughly is the best way to combat these pathogens," Professor Schmidt explained.

"Since staph bacteria are usually from human origin, poor hygiene habits are usually associated with staph-related illnesses. High protein foods, including those of animal origin, provide a good environment for the growth of staphylococcus," he added.

These and other bacteria have the most severe effect on the elderly, pregnant women and infants, and those with weakened immune systems. Food borne illnesses can cause nausea, vomiting and diarrhea and other flu-like symptoms.

Illnesses can manifest themselves anywhere from a few hours to a few days after people ingest the pathogen.

The UF/IFAS food scientist recommends the following food-handling tips to prevent food borne illness:

• Don't buy cans or glass jars with dents, cracks or bulging lids. Store canned goods in a cool, dry place for use within a year.

• Be careful in handling raw food products that will not be cooked before eating. Avoid eating raw foods of animal origin such as ground meats, poultry, eggs, milk and dairy products and most seafood. Eating rare steak is not considered a big risk. Cook food thoroughly (to at least 160 degrees Fahrenheit). Thoroughly reheat leftovers.

• Promptly refrigerate cooked meat and poultry in small shallow containers. Refrigerate perishable food as soon as you get home from the supermarket. Keep the refrigerator temperature at 40 degrees Fahrenheit or lower.

• Don't thaw food on the counter; bacteria grow quickly at room temperature. Thaw food in the refrigerator or microwave just before cooking.

• Keep work areas clean. Wash hands, cutting boards, can openers and other cooking utensils in hot, soapy water before preparing food and after handling raw meat or poultry. Thoroughly clean any surface that touches food.

• Keep pets away from food, cooking and eating surfaces, and equipment.

• Don't take chances. If you suspect there's a problem, throw the food out.

Glades Central's Cities In Schools program receives grant

Thanks to a Learn and Serve grant, students from Glades Central Community High School and Pioneer Park Elementary School kicked off a mentoring project between the two schools on Tuesday.

Glades Central's Cities In Schools Program received a grant in the amount of $748 due to the efforts of students in Milton Watson and Anne Haskell's second period class. The grant is a result of a partnership between the Palm Beach County-School District and Cities in Schools of Palm Beach County and is funded by the Learn and Serve Project of the Department of Education.

Students in all three Cities In Schools classes will be focusing on literacy and reading readiness as they read to students in pre-kindergarten and first grade classes at Pioneer Park Elementary School, according to Ms. Haskell. The CIS students will visit the elementary school once a week for six weeks and read to the children from books purchased with the grant money.

Prior to the visits at Pioneer Park Elementary, Mary Ann Blanchard, one of the Media Specialists at Glades Central conducted a reading/storytelling workshop with the CIS students.

GCIS students who wrote the grant were a part of a leadership council that attended a grant writing workshop conducted by Ilene Solomon Silber, executive director of Cities In Schools.

Student Leadership Co-Presidents, Kameshia Moore and Michael Brown participated on the grant review committee which reviewed 19 grant applications from Palm Beach County Schools.

They, along with other CIS students reviewed, and rated all the grants, however, they sat out for the review of Glades Central's application.

In addition to the reading component of the grant, CIS also received funds to assist the pre-kindergartners with a tree planting activity.

According to Ms. Haskell, the students are excited and look forward to building friendships with the elementary school students.

Glades Central's Wrestling Team, under the direction of Coach Frank Lasagna, recently wrestled against The Wolverines of Wellington. Shown is a Glades Central wrestler getting the best of a Wolverine in the Varsity Division.

Correction:

The Sun's "How to Cook a Thanksgiving Turkey" centerspread, the Nov. 23 edition, was filled with letters from area Elementary School's Kindergarten through Third grade students.

In our letters we corrected the children's spelling of all the schools except Glade View Elementary. These letters were written by small children and also some of the errors were our types.

The Sun Staff realizes that we should have written all of the letters the same, either corrected or not and we apologize for the error. We would also like to thank Glade View Elementary for their wonderful attitude concerning our mistake.

Celebration time, George Meade's 100th birthday, Nov. 23

What a celebration! Canal Point United Methodist Church's Maxson Fellowship Hall was filled with a spirit of jubilation, as family and friends of George Meade celebrated his 100th birthday.

The hall's decorations included many photographs taken throughout George's life. People exchanged anecdote after anecdote of their personal friendships through the years with George, as choruses of "Happy Birthday" filled the air. George was surrounded by "remember-when" kind of conversation, and his sharp mind, and delightful sense of humor, punctuated the afternoon's festivities with a deep awareness of God's provision for this man of faith.

Father John Mericantante of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Pahokee and Rev. Jackie McMillan, pastor of Canal Point United Methodist Church shared a time of thanking God for George, and God's continued abundant blessings in George's life.

George was born in New York

City on Nov. 23, 1895. When he was a young child, the family moved to Plattsburg, N.Y. After serving in the Army Air Force during World War I, George and his father moved to West Palm Beach in 1925. Then, in the late 20's, George moved to Pahokee, where he has continued to live for these past 70 years. George met Sue Maxwell, who became the love of his life, in Pahokee, and they were married in St. Mary's Catholic Church. Sue passed away in Dec. of 1989.

George Meade resides today in his home on Bacon Point Road, Pahokee, and he finds a special delight in receiving friends and family. He is a gifted, intelligent, kind man who lives among us as one who has made a difference for good, and for God, throughout his life, here in the heart of the Glades.

Along with friends and family, we would like to extend our best wishes, and join their chorus of, "Happy Birthday George!"

Rosenwald gave away Thanksgiving Baskets

Cynthia Gilliam, Parent Liaison and Joanna Parrish, Migrant Community Resource Person at Rosenwald Elementary set out on Tuesday, Nov. 21, to make sure some needy families Thanksgiving would truly be a day of

"Thanks" and "Joy".

Thanksgiving baskets and certificates for turkeys were presented to the Gujardo family, Carter family, Martinez family and the Gramados family, all of South Bay.

Parent Honor Roll breakfast, Nov. 29 at Rosenwald

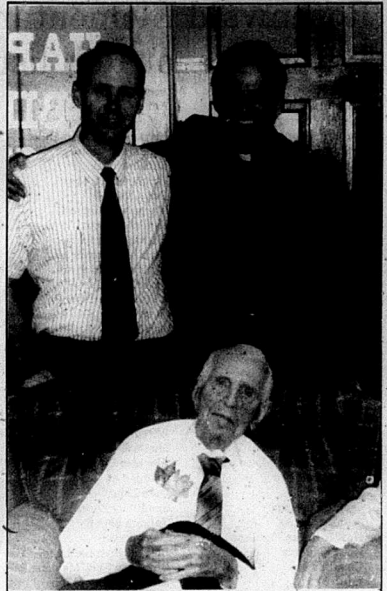

Rosenwald Elementary hosted its first "Parent Honor Roll" Breakfast on Nov. 29 in the school's cafeteria.

The breakfast was held to honor parents of students who come prepared, complete all assignments and work well with others on a regular basis at school.

Over one-hundred invitees were present, plus parents of honor roll students. The school's Parent Liaison and Success For All Facilitator wanted to award those parents who consistently ensure the success of their child. All reading teachers were asked to submit the names of those parents for recognition.

It is hoped that this recognition will serve as a motivator to other parents to become more involved in the education of their children and the success of their school.

Outdoor carol singing seems to have started in the Middle Ages, when groups of people went from house to house to sing by torchlight.

Xi Zeta Mu met Nov. 27

Xi Zeta Mu held their third meeting of the season, Nov. 27, 1995, at the home of Karen Corbin, with Gloria Crosby as Co-Hostess.

After the business meeting Gloria read a lovely Christmas story. The gift raffle was won by Pat McKee.

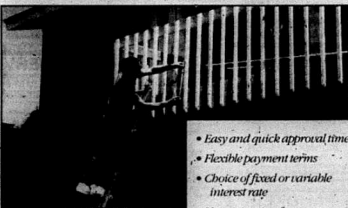

The following rituals were held during this meeting. The ritual of jewels for Sara Nell Phillips, Barbara Scruggs, Greadle York and Laverne Motes. The Exemplar ritual for Barbara Meroney. Officer for these rituals was Sandra Chamberlee. Others attending were Florence Acres, Merelyne Cochran, Laura Mae Enfinger, Jane Evans, Janise Goforth, Judy McMillan, and Linda McMillan.

It is not enough to have a good mind. The main thing is to use it well.

Christmas parade, Dec. 2

The marching unit of Rosenwald (drill team, future teachers, and safety patrol) racked up a Third place ribbon during their participation in the Annual City of Belle Glade Christmas parade. The school's theme was "Rocking around the Christmas Tree".
Thanks go out to students Joshua Kelting and Kelvina Clarke for their representation for the school in the "Living Christmas Tree" performed at Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center Dec. 2 and Dec. 3.

This year's musical theme is "Santa's Frosty Follies". Show time for both nights is 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $1 and are available by contacting Ms. Brenda Nehls at Glades Day School (996-6769).

And last but certainly not least, the West Campus Elementary will present their holiday program at 7 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 14, in the First Baptist Church's sanctuary.
The National Honor Society is doing their best to help others in this special time of year. They completed a successful Thanksgiving Food Drive and are now collecting toys for the Christmas Toy Drive. You can do your part in showing your Christmas spirit by sending a new or good-as-new toy to your child's homeroom by this Monday, Dec. 11. Help us make this the best Christmas ever for everyone!
Glades Day School congratulates elementary student Noelle Basore, who won the free yearbook in the annual staff's drawing. Freshman Brooke Prescott won $15 and Cristina Lockhart, who is also in the ninth grade, won $10. Yearbook advisor Karen Hansford thanks all those who ordered their yearbooks on time last week and promises everyone will be pleased with the 1996 GATOR. The staff has been busy taking pictures, drawing layouts and writing copy for this year's record of student life. There will also be a special section on the state football playoffs. After the last deadline in March, the books will arrive sometime in May. If there are any extra books left after filling all orders, they will be $45.

Glades Day School's baseball coach Craig Dobson advises there is still time to register for his Gator Baseball Camp for boys in grades 5-12 that will take place Dec. 18-20.
The session for boys in grades 5-7 will be from 9:30 a.m. - 12 noon and the one for boys in grades 8-12 will be from 1 - 3:30 p.m. The cost is $25 per player. Application forms are available in the high school office.

Hark, the Herald Angels Sing!... Pioneer Growers Cooperative won First place in the Best Float category of the City of Belle Glade's Annual Christmas parade held Saturday, Dec. 2.

Glades Day Gators defeat Warriors 28-7

By Eddie Campbell

Last Friday the Glades Day Gators took their final step towards the state championship by defeating the Miami Westminster Warriors 28-7. Chants of "Daytona" came from the Gator faithful at the end of the Dec. 1 game.

Lee Sweet took the ball on the first play from the line of scrimmage and ran 67 yards for a touchdown. That would be only the beginning of Sweet's heroics. The Gator defense made their presence felt in the first quarter when Brad Seider intercepted a Warrior pass with 3:19 left in the quarter. The Gators capitalized on the turnover when Sweet again romped 30 yards for a touchdown to end the first quarter.

Both defenses took over in the second quarter with neither team scoring until the last play of the half when the Warriors scored on a nine yard touchdown pass and took the momentum of the game with them into halftime.

The Warriors came back out still fired up from the first half touchdown and ran a reverse on the kickoff which put them inside Gator territory to start the second half. The Warrior drive quickly came to an abrupt stop when Farris Shatara recovered a Warrior fumble. Neither team managed to score in the third quarter.

The Gators kept the ball on the ground all night. Seider came in on the Gator goal line offense at tailback and slammed in the third Gator touchdown of the night to make the score 21-7 Gators.

Sweet scored his third touchdown of the night with 6:33 left in the fourth quarter to put the game away for the Gators. Then irony set in on the Warriors. The four bunks of lights on the west side of the field, that is the visitors side, went out leaving the Warrior fans and players in darkness.

By the way, it was an accident. After a 15 minute delay, the lights were restored and play resumed.

The last gasp of the Warriors was put away when Shatara intercepted a Warrior pass. The celebration then began for the Gators. They now knew they once again get to make a trip to Daytona to play for the state championship.

Gators rush for 398 yards -

The player of the game was Sweet who ended the game with a season high 278 yards on 21 carries. The Gator defense was led by defensive linemen Patrick Altman and Matthew Snow who had eight and seven tackles respectively.

Offensive coordinator Pete Walker said of the Gator offense, "We told the offensive line before the game to take it home up front. They not only took it, they owned it!"

"Daytona bound"

Talk after the game was about the state game. The Gators won't be satisfied with just another trip back to the title game. This attitude was best typified by Senior fullback Shawn Whitlock after the game, "We're bringing this one home."

The state championship will be held at Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium on Dec. 9 at 1 o'clock.

 It won't be long before we find out who is the top dog in the Glades at picking winning football teams. We've got an inkling it's going to come down to the wire this week as Earl Wingate with Bernie Little, (who is 107-33) and Mike Burkett, (who is breathing down his neck with a score of 106 wins and 34 losses), make their choices this week.

Fishing with B.A.S.S. Pro. Walt Reynolds

make it better for the next couple of months. They are still a little scattered, but by next week I should be able to give you some solid information on where the best areas are to try.

The bass are still scattered also, so when you are out on the lake this week, expect to cover a lot of water. Fishing Bay has cleaned up quite well and should become one of the best areas very shortly. Bay bottom is looking better now and is really clean in behind Kramer Island. Fishing a worm very slow or pitching a crawdad in the edge of the bullrushes will catch some nice fish.

Christmas is just around the corner and a lot of anglers are making up their wish lists.

Next week I will give you every fisherman's dream list and maybe it will help with your shopping ideas.

With Christmas will also come a large influx of anglers to Clewiston and Belle Glade, ready to try a few days of heaven on Lake Okeechobee.

Please make them welcome to our town so they will return home and tell their friends about our great area.

Anyone visiting our area who needs help with local information may feel free to call me at (941) 989-8692, and I will do my best to help.

To all a good bite,
Walt Reynolds
B.A.S.S. Touring Pro.

After a week of freezing temperatures and very few fish to catch, we are most happy to be home again. Lake Lanier was not good to the Florida boys this week, as Jim Bittler of Fruitland was the only guy out of 25 to make a check. The good part is that we do not have to go back on the road for almost three months.

There are some nice catches of Crappie starting to come in. The cooler weather will only

The Glades Youth Football League took first place in the Pee Wee and Junior Division games by the Police Athletic League. Mr. Byrdwood said he would like to thank the community for their donations and especially the Belle Glade Police Department, City Manager Lomax Harville, Sue Teets, and Finance Director David Wood.

TIPS FOR HOLIDAY MAILING

- When mailing your holiday cards and packages, please write, print or type the address neatly. Remember to mail your cards and packages early in the day and early in the season. Early means anytime before the first week in December for all mail being sent within the continental United States.
- Always include the apartment or suite number in an address. Also, use the correct directional and identifiers such as: N, W, SW, etc., and Ave., Blvd., St., etc.
- Never guess a ZIP Code. Use of the wrong ZIP Code could cause your mail to be sent to the wrong city. Call your local post office for the correct ZIP Code.
- Most post offices are open Christmas Eve. For those traditional procrastinators, that means the Postal Service can get that last minute holiday gift delivered on Christmas Day via Express Mail.
- When sending a package — use filament tape to seal it. Please do not tie packages with string! String often slips off and jams postal sorting machines. The best way to secure a package is to use strong filament tape.
- When mailing holiday gifts, use sturdy packages that will protect the contents and use plenty of padding so that nothing rattles. Styrofoam peanuts or bubble pack plastic foam work very well. For lighter items, crushed newspapers or shopping bags also work well. Also, for environmentally friendly padding, try hot-air popcorn. But don't use popcorn cooked in oil — it makes a mess.
- If sending an irreplaceable one-of-a-kind article please use Registered Mail. Registered Mail, the most secure way to send mail, travels in locked containers and is signed for by every employee who handles it.

Every holiday season the Postal Service receives thousands of letters to Santa Claus, so it is a good idea to put his complete address on your letter. Send Santa letters to:

Santa Claus
Christmas, FL 32709-9998 OR Santa Claus
North Pole, AK 99705-9998

For parents who would like to have a personal response from Santa sent to their children with a North Pole postmark, they can write the letter themselves, and then follow these guidelines: 1) Completely address and apply postage stamps to the envelope(s) you wish to have postmarked. 2) Insert the items into a larger envelope or container. 3) Include a note requesting the Christmas or North Pole postmark. 4) By December 10, please send to:

Christmas Cancellations
23580 E. Colonial Drive
Christmas, FL 32709-9998 OR North Pole Cancellations
5400 Mail Trail

How Advertising and PR Help Make More Money

(NAPS) - Whether you're a small business owner looking for more business... or an individual looking for a job... the editor of PR News says an "information gap" may be standing in your way.

of your making more money. Right now, many of the people who could help you don't know what you can do for them, advises PR News editor Tom Moore.

But fortunately, by doing increased advertising and PR for yourself or your business, you can fill the information gap.

With advertising it's often possible to find a "golden goose" - an ad that brings you a wonderful response, perhaps ten times as much as other ads. Experimenting with different types of ads helps many businesses to find a golden goose.

Free Newsletter Successful PR requires up-to-the-minute information on the latest PR techniques... what's working and what's not. This and a wealth of other information appears weekly in the PR News newsletter, one free copy of which is available to readers of this newspaper who may be interested in subscribing.

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to PR News, 1201 Seven Locks Road, Potomac, MD 20854-1110 or call toll-free 1-800-777-5006.
